A VOICE FOR LANCASHIRE Oh! hearken to the moan and cry; Oh! listen to the sob and sigh, Which dolorous through the air Come from the North with saddening w And thrill the heart with a doleful tale Of misery and despair.

That mother's lumentations hear; An angel of death is hovering near, To bear away her child, Whose feeble voice implores in vain For food, to chase its gnawing pain, Inaccents faint and mild.

Regard that husband's burning tears Of black dejection, as appears
His patient starving wife,
With shrunken form and bloodless cheek,
With feltering tone and visage meek,
As gradual ebbs her life.

Oh! see that bire and wretched home, Where frosts and wintry winds now come, To pierce and devastate:
Look on those hungry victius there,
All huddled round with vacant stare
The meeking fireless grate.

When ye—who are with comforts blest— Retire, on beds of down to rest, Think of these scenes of woe: Let all e'er sleeping meditate These sulf ring mortals crushing fite, And cause to overflow.

With sympathising leve each breast, And be determined quick to wrest From grin destruction's grasp These beings—who shudder o'er the brink Or yawning death, e'er yet they sink Into its savuge clasp.

Press forward all ye rich and poor, With bounteons off rings to the store For groating Lancashite: There's One above who will repay The merciful—on the Last Great Day— To His weeping children here.

Gossip about the Future Queen of Eng-

There is a good deal of the romance of Royalty in the family of the future Queen of England. Her uncle, Duke Charles, the head of the house of Schleswig-Holstein-Sondenburg-Glacksburg, is married to the di-voiced wife of the King of Denmark, and there Soudenburg-trucksburg, is married to the divoced wife of the King of Denmark, and there is believed to be a love tail at the bottom of the affair wonderful enough to fill a three-volume novel. Certain it is that King Frederick VII was divorced from Queen Wilhelminn, his first consort, in September, 1837, and that, but eight mouths after, on the 19th of May, 1838, the royal lady was reunited in the bonds of matrimony to the Duke Chatles, her junior by six years. The name of the eldest aunt of Princess Alexandra, Princess Mary, is connected with another romance, which ended in a morganatic marriage with a Col. Lasperg, at whose death, in 1838, she gave her hand in fresh morganatic allance to a Count of Holenthal. The next aunt, Princess Frederica, an exceedingly handsome and accomplished lady, married in early life the reigning Dake of Anhalt Bernberg, who not long after became mentally affected, so as to be incapacitated for government.

compiling Dake of Anhalt Bernberg, who not long after became mentally affected, so as to be incapacitated for government.

The decrease of happiness, however, brought with it an increase of power to the Princess Frederick, who is now styled Duchess co-Regent of Anhalt-Bernberg. The history of another aunt, the youngest Princess Alexandra, is more striking still. Princess Louise of Schleswig-Holstein-Sondenburg Gineksburg, born in 1820 was counted, some twenty years ago, one of the most beauteons of royal ladies in Germany, and as such was naturally surrounded by a host of high-born admiters. The wooing, however, was unsuccessful in every instance, and, one after the other, the Herzoge, Fursten, and Gralen had to retire from the matrimonial field, hopeless of the hand of the fair Princess. The romance ended by the Princess Louise becoming an num, entering the little convent of fizehoe, in Holstein, to the dignity of abbess of which she was elected in August, 1860.

On the maternal side, Princess Alexandra is closely related to our own royal family, the Duchess of Cambridge being her grandfather's sister. This grandfather, Landgraf William, is presumptive beir to the ill-governed electorate of Hesse-Cassel, either in his own person, or that of his son, Prince Frederic. The Landgraf, how seventy-live years old, is possessed of considerable private property in various parts of Germany, and it is said that the marriage of the Prince of Wales with his granddaughter will take place at one of his country-seats, the beautiful chateau of Rompenheim, near Frankfort, on the left bank of the Main. That this will be the case is highly probable, inasmuch as the English heir-apparent can searcedy go to Coponleft bank of the Main. That this will be the case is highly probable, inasmuch as the English heir-apparent can searcely go to Copenhagen, to be received as the guest of the Royal Counters Danner, whilom Miss Rasmussen of Hanover; nor to the court of Hesse-Cassel, presided over by another morganatic lady, formerly the wife of a non-commissioned officer in the service of Pensiar, and recently the property of the service of Pensiar, and recently a place of the service of Pensiar, and recently a place of the service of Pensiar, and recently a place of the service of Pensiar, and recently a place of the service of Pensiar, and recently a place of the service of Pensiar, and recently a place of the service of Pensiar, and recently a place of the service of Pensiar, and recently a place of the service of Pensiar and Pensiar Pensiar place of the service of Pensiar in the service of Prussia; nor even to a place in Schleswig-Holstein, since the ducal fam-ily, as well as the inhabitants of that country, are naturally not on good terms with Princess Alexandra's father, who is looked upon as a renegade from the political creed of his an-

It cannot be denied that there is a manifest paweity of high family relations for the future Queen of Engiand; but this will scarcely be deemed a misfortune here with us, and there may even be not a few sincerely loyal subjects of her Majesty who will hold it a notable advantage. A greatery however, lies in the fact that Princess Alexandra is known to be not only a very amiable and accomplished young lady, but, what is more, a most dutiful and affectionate child, beloved by her parents, broth rs and sisters, and admired by all her friends. There is scarcely more to be wished for in the proposed bride of Prince Afbert Edward, except the one additional point, happily guaranteed by the able editor of the Ladependence, of the future It cannot be denied that there is a manieditor of the Independence, of the future Queen of England being "une jolie et tres-gracience personne." It seems good luck enough, even for a Prince of Wales.—English

WELLINGTON AND NAPOLEON .- Napoleon Wellington and Napoleon.—Napoleon and Wellington are not ceemies, but contraries. Never did God, who delights in antithesis, pr. duce a more striking contrast, or amore extraordinary conformation. On one side precision, foresight, geometry, prudence, a retreat assured, reserves prepared an obstinate coolness, an imperturbable method, strategy profiting by the ground, tacties ballowing buttallous, carrage measured by a stinate coolness, an imperturbable method, strategy positing by the ground, tactics bal ancing battalions, carrage measured by a plumbline, war regulated watch in hand, nothing left voluntarily to accident, old classic courage, and absolute correctness. Os the other hand we have intuition, divination, military strangeness, superhuman in stinct, a flashing glance; something that gazes like the eagle and strikes like lightning, all the mysteries of a profound mind, association with destiny; the river, he plain, the forest, and the hill summon d, and to some extent compelled, to abey the despot going so far as even to tyrranise over the battle-field; laith in a star blended with strategic science, heightening, but troubling it. Wellington was the Bareme of war. Napoleon was its Michael Angelo, and this true genius was conquered by calculation. On both sides somebudy was expected; and it was the exact calculator who succeeded. Napoleon waited for Gronchy, who did not come; Wellington watch for Blucher, and he came.—Victor Hugo's Les Miserables.

ARRIDGED PROSPECTUS.

THE OBJECT OF THIS COMPANY IS
To establish Railway communication between Victoria and Esquimalt, and thereby to provide for passengers and goods a more speedy and easy mode of transit than that which now exists.
This end attained, the delay and expense now necessarily attending vessels of large tonnage, bound for Victoria, but compelled to discharge their cargoes at Esquimalt, will at once be obviated.
Esquimalt, maturally the commercial port of the City of Victoria, would occupy, in nearly every resetbourne, or Grennoetc to Ginsgow.

Its marked adaptability as the present terminus for Occan Steanships (several of which connect monthly with San Francisco); the certainty of its being the future terminus of the line of Steamers beween this port and Fansan; its commanding insortance as Her Majesty's principal Naval Station in the Facilie, when taken in connection with its teep and capacious affective and on the facility of the

Public Meeting in Aid of the Laucashire

The meeting summoned by His Worship the Mayor to take steps for the relief of the distressed operatives in the manufacturing counties of the mother country, was held in the Victoria Theatre yesterday afternoon, and attended by about three hundred ersons, comprising citizens of every class and nationality. Amongst the gentlemen congregated upon the platform we remarked that each denomination of the church in our community was strongly represented, and with the presence of Col. Moody and Dr. Seddall, of the Royal Engineers, several officers of the navy, and the majority of the members of the Houses of the Colonial Legislature.

At 2.15 p. m., in compliance with the request of the Mayor, His Excellency the Gov ernor took the chair. G. M. Sproat, Esq., was then voted into the vice-chair and J. D. Walker, Esq., elected Treasurer. Lumley Franklin, Esq., and the Rev. R. J. Dundas, accepting the olice of hon secretaries.

His Excellency in rising to open the meeting was greeted with great applause. He said:

I have much satisfaction, gentlemen, in complying with the request of His Worship the Mayor to preside at this meeting. A few words will explain its object.

words will explain its object.

We are met together this day to express our sympathy with the suffering thousands in the manufacturing districts of England who have been reduced to a state of extreme destinution, not from any fault of their own, but through one of those national misfortunes which no power short of the arm of the Almighty can avert. mighty can avert.

I shall not attempt to arouse your feelings

I shall not attempt to arouse your feelings with any imaginary pictures of distress, for it is but too evident from the appalling recitals in the public journals, that words cannot convey an idea of the amount of suffering nor of the real extent of this calamitons visitation.

I should not have appealed to your benevotied this day in less urgent circumstances, for I know the many calls that have been made upon you by the hundreds of distressed pressure who are now resident in this Colony.

persons who are now resident in this Colony and who must still be in a great measure dendent on your bounty for their support.

I know gentlemen—and I glory in the fact hat such appeals have never been made to a in vain. They bave, in every instance on met with a prompt and generous applause.

T believe, indeed, that in no part of the world is there to be found a more generous, liberal, and free-hearted public than in this City of Victoria. [hear! and applause.]

I know that the utmost amount of aid we can afford to give, will appear insignificant compared with the contributions of large and papuluse colonies; out, let not that consideration restrain our efforts. Our aid, however small, will be acceptable, and it will at least prove that our hearts are right with our prove that our hearts are right with our ountry; that we take part in her joys and ber sorrows; that we will joyfully shake our heart, whether triumphs or disasters, wil strike a chord that vibrates strongly in the hearts of the people of Vancouver Island

[loud applause.]
The vice chairman remarked that after The vice chairman remarked that after what had fallen from His Excellency no further need be said to enlist their sympathies. The meeting was assembled for a business object, not for the display of eloquence. (Applause.) He then called on the Lord Bishop of Columbia to move the first resolution.

Perhaps many they were acquainted with the worth of the operatives of England. He He necturnal intruders bent on plunder. the worth of the operatives of England. He had been lived that a more noble, energetic, or independent race of men was not to be found in the world. They were accustomed to make every effort for their cwn support. We could not be too grateful for the fortinde they had exhibited in this hour of trial, and for the order and peace that reigned among them. Formerly much loss trouble had caused alarm amongst ministers, Now, though eager to carn their own support, they were forced to appeal to charity. sources that would enable them, in luture, to furnish the supply:

The Mayor was saluted with loud applause as he stepped forward to second the resolution. His Worship said that he experienced at the moment two feelings—pleasure and sorrow. Pleasure, to see so many persons assembled to carry out the object for which they had met; and sorrow that his country required such aid. God forbid that it should ever occur again. Doubtless Providence had some great object in view; it might be the ome great object in view; it might be the ursting of the bonds of slavery. (Hear! :ar!) No doubt the hand of God was in it. hear!) CITY COUNCIL Monday, Jan. 26th. The Conneil met at 7:10, p. m. Present Lis Worship the Mayor and a full Board. COMMUNICATIONS.

A petition, signed by about twenty-five property holders on Trangley street, was first read. It represented the bad condition of that street between Yates and Fort streets, and prayed that the same might be forthwith nspected and improved.
On the motion of Mr. Lewis, it was re olved that the prayer of the petition be been compelled to take such measures as to bring Great Britain into war/with the neighboring power, the Colonies would have suffered the effect. He argued that all owed a debt of gratitude for the patience that had been shown, and declared that selfshness, if not humanity, demanded that aid to the utmost extent should be given to alleviate their distress. (Loud applause.)

The Rev. E. Evans, D. D., seconded the resolution with an effective speech. He considered that according to the Divine injunction, recognized by Jew and Gentile, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," it was their duty to render assistance to the distressed at this juncture. > Postponen.-The inquest on the body of the Indian supposed to have been murdered, was postpoued by the Coroner till to-day.

We must not conceal from ourselves the rime in our midst is becoming both seriou and alarming, and calls for strong measure on the part of the authorities to arrest its further progress. When a peaceable citizen passing through the streets of the town, at comparatively early hoar of the night, is garotted and robbed of his property, it is a matter of the greatest moment to us all that measures should be taken to prevent the renetition of an offence which has been attended by such fatal results in other places. If we have not sufficient police to prevent benious But the question may well be asked how can great efficiency be expected from a body who are disgracefully underpaid, and who only hold their situations during a temporary pressure or until they obtain remunerative occupation elsewhere. In a late number of the Times we saw a remark from the pen of one of the superintendents of the London police, in re-ply to criticisms on the force for not preenting the perpetration of so many out rages in the metropolis. He said police offi-cers were like soldiers, and could not be made cers were like soldiers, and could not be made efficient in the prevention of crime or defection of the perpetrators by the training of a lew days or weeks. It required long service and experience to fit a man for his duty. The force of the observation we must acknowledge, and press on the attention of our authorities. We believe there is scarcely a man in the present face here more than a few man in the present force here more than a few man in the present force here more than a few months, and changes are almost a matter of daily occurrence. It will be so, just so long as the men are inadequately remunerated for their services. Policemen have not as high wages as most laborers in the town, and we know that if the men could get work, they would gladly accept it in preference to their present occupation. Forly dollars a month, for men who have to submit to the exposure of dama, and chilk nights the abuse of every moment they can do so.

Instead of the sergeant having only $50 a month he should have nearly twice that amount, and $60 would not be extravagant pay for the men. Only let their salary be advanced to a proper figure, and then, and not till then, shall we expect to see a really effective force. There are men acting here at present as con-There are men acting here at present as constables who have held superior positions in the police establishments of both Canada and Australia, and it should be the aim and object of the authorities to keep such officers, and thereby make the force a credit to the country and serviceable to its inhabitants. We should also observe that until the force are streamly equipped for the country and serviceable to the country and serviceable to the capacitation. should also observe that until the force are properly requited for their services, they cannot be looked upon as superior to the temptation of taking the bribes which unserupulous persons have frequently been proved to offer them. Should there not be some active measures taken by the Government in reference to the efficiency of the force, the public must take the matter into their own hands and deal with it like sensible men. We must not have the country disgraced by the committal have the country disgraced by the committal of horrid crimes for the sake of a false system of horrid crimes for the sake of a laise system of economy. We would invite attention to the following list of offences mentioned in our issue of yesterday, viz.: one case of mirdersing an Indian; one case of garotting; one case of highway robbary; one case of assault and abduction. To this might be added the attempt at burglary on Johnson street, on Sunday night.

THE LANCASHIRE DISTRESS .- Mr. Ring's lecture.

"Like drops of water, like grains of sand Make the mighty ocean and the spacious land," sa truth, under the guidance of which a man may grow selfishly rich, or thoughtfully relieve the poor. The great reservoir of the Lancashire Fund swellen by contributions of almost unprecedented magnitude on the part of the wealthy, is chiefly fed by innumerable streams flowing from less affluent sources. Of this kind are the contributions of people interest, such as sermons, lectures, etc. Poo-ple do not miss what they thus give individu-ally, while, collecting, those little rills soon expand into a broad river. On this principle we hope to see a large attendance at the lec-ture to be delivered, this avening, by Mr. Rieg, the Bishop of Columbia presiding. In-dependently of the benevolent object in view, the little delivered the rest corrhiped will afford an intellectual treat corabined it will afford an intellectual treat combined with useful instruction. The known talent and eloquence of the lecturer will secure this. But in gratifying themselves, the hearers will be aiding others. Every ticket sold will feed a starving family. Let the ladies think of this and come in large numeers, and induce others to do the same. We trust the fidence the public have in the stability and growners will be accounted.

One of the speakers perti-natly referred to the claim which the people there had upon the Government for aid in es-tablishing and carrying out the object of the meeting. We feel sure that if the matter be only pro-cented with spirit, the Government must accede to a request so reasonable and fair, and which demands state assistance. fair, and which demands state assistance. The liberality of the Reverend Chairman is worthy of initation, and we hope will be followed by all who have an interest in the progress of education, and a desire to promote its success in the locality referred to.

MAYOR'S COURT .- The only summons before His Worship, yesterday morning, was one issued, on the information of Councillor Copland, against Mr. Calverwell for furious riding. The case was postponed until Saturday next at 10, a.m., at the request of the complainant. Mr. Bishop, who appeared for the defendant, then asked leave for his client o lodge an information against Mr. Copland to longe an information against an copiant for an assault alleged to have been committed in that Court on the Monday previous. His Worship consented to entertain the complaint, and after the necessary formalities had been complied with, issued a summons and the complied with issued a summons to the complication of the complication of the complication of the complete complete the complete complete the complete comp for the appearance of the accused before him on Monday next,

THE FRACAS ON SATURDAY NIGHT .-- Mr Quarles, arrested by officer Thompson on Saturday night for creating a disturbance, appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning. Mr. Dufries preferred an additional charge of assault and threatening to shoot, when the case was remanded for one day with the consent of all parties. Summonses were the consent of at parties. Summonses were issued yesterday for the appearance of several persons who are alleged to have attempted to rescue the defendant from custody, and also for the attendance of witnesses to the circumstances which led to the arrest. The accused is at fiberty on bail.

The Committee appointed at the nublic meeting held yesterday afternoon, are requested to meet at Mr. Franklin's office this morning at 10 o'clock.

SUPREME COURT .-- The only case heard by Chief Justice Cameron, yesterday, was a suit brought by the Mayor against Messrs, Dougall & Son, iron founders, for the sum of £300, damages alleged to have been sustained E3007 damages alleged to have been sustained by the circumstance of a defective screw having been supplied to the steamer Emily Harris. Mr. Cary, instructed by Mr. Drake, appeared for the plannifi; Mr. McCreight, instructed by Mr. Pearkes, for the defendant. The evidence of Mr. Shearer, engineer of the steamer Enterprise, was heard, when the case was adjourned for further hearing this morning.

VICTORIA MARKET REPORT

The local produce market has been rather quie during the past week, the merchants being princi-pally engaged in getting in new stocks, there beng extensive arrivals of all descriptions of pro uce from San Francisco and the Sound. Hay is now almost a drug in the market, but there is no reduction in rate. Flour is held in larger GAS TUBING, ELBOWS, BENDS, and TEES, 1-1, 1-2, 3-4, and quantities than usual, a great addition having been made to the stock by the late arrivals from San Francisco. Onions are still scarce, although about 20 bags were added to the stock during the week The price is unaltered.

GROCERIES.—Buyers have not been numerous since last reports, and receiving goods has been in their spring stocks, and a lively time has been witnessed among them, as the arrivals were all so quick upon each other as to afford little opportunity to get one batch out of the way until another was on hand. English goods are still only in oderate supply, and rates are firm in consequence COAL TRADE. - The stock of coal is now large. there having been a fleet of colliers from the mines coal has advanced a dollar a ton, in consequen of the dealers having to pay that amount additional to the gentleman who holds the monopoly of one of the pits for six months. We cannot unterstand how this state of affairs has been allowed to creep in under the auspices of the new company, as under their enterprising management we looked for a reduction instead of an advance, in the price of this most necessary article. PUBLIC SALES .- We have had several public sales, during the week, of Hardware, Furniture, Groceries, Liquors, Dry Goods, etc. Under the hammers of Messrs, Backus, McCrea, and Scott large quantities of goods were disposed of at what was generally considered remunerative prices.

Hotloway's Pills are undeniably the fines Medicine in the world for Billiousness and Indigestion. In all cases of deranged stomach, determination of blood to the head, bile, sick headache, liver and stomach complaints, there is no medicine known that will give such immediate relief as there are nowned Fills; young and old, rich or poor, partonice them, and so many cares, are effected by their use, that their praise is sounded from the temperate climate to the frigid zone; in truth, persons who travol consider them as necessary requisite. During the overland journey to India, the shine covered with a prickly heat, and the whole system languid and exhausted. Nothing so soon gives relief as Holloway's Fills.

Children's Complaints.

Children's Complaints.

It is not generally known, but such it he fact, that children require medicine oftener than their parents, Three-lounths of the children die before they attain the age of eight years. Let mothers, then, be wise, and gire to their children small doese of these finvaluable Pills once or twice every week, it such quantity as may act gently upon the system twice his the twenty-four hours. For infants, a Pill may be crush-humors that are constantly floating about in the blood of children, the forerunners of so many complaints, will thus be expelled, and the lives of thoul sands saved and preserved to their parents.

A Mild, Prompt, and Effective Remedy. There is searcely any disease in which purgative medicines are not required; and much sickness and suffering night be prevented were they more generally used. No person can feel well while a contire habit of body prevails, besides, it soon generates serious and often into disease, which might be avoided by timely and judicious use of proper Cathartic medicines. Convinced of the correctness of these views,

JANNE'S SANATIVE PILLS
Are recommended with the greatest confidence, experience having demonstrated them to be far superior to any other iones, begg m. While properties and uniform in their operation. While properties and uniform in their operation. While properties are selected as the selected and entire any est and drink as usual. Age will not impair town, as they are so combined as to always readily discolve in the stomach. In small doses they are alterative and gently laxative, but in large doses are actively cathartic, cleaneing the whole alimentary canal from all putrid, irritating and fecal matters.

For DYSPL'ISLA, these l'illis are really an invaluable article, gradually changing the vifiated secretions of the Stomach and Liver, and producing healthy action in those important organs. In cases of long standing, a cure will be more speedly effected by using, in conjunction with the l'lije, cher Jayne's Alterative or Tonic Vermitinge, according to direction.
